Classified as Property of Public Interest and located on the left bank of the Minho River, on a small hilltop, this Castle stands out from the urban mesh, having wonderful views overlooking both Vila Nova de Cerveira and the river. This medieval castle (whose earliest historical references date from the 13 th century), with an oval floorplan and eight quadrangular towers, was built in a gothic style. In its interior, and in a reasonable state of conservation, one can find the old Governor's House, the prison, the Misericórdia church, the Nossa Senhora da Ajuda Chapel and other outbuildings, which were transformed into a hotel that was up and running from 1982 to 2008.
